VACo Releases 2017 Legislative Program

After months of steering committee meetings, lively debate and participation through the association's legislative process, VACo adopted its 2017 Legislative Program. The Legislative Program is organized according to VACo's Steering Committees.

VACo membership identified "Increased Education Funding" as the overarching legislative priority for the 2017 General Assembly Session.

VACo's overarching legislative priority is:

To assure each child in Virginia a quality education necessary for his or her success, VACo calls upon the Governor and General Assembly to fully fund the Standards of Quality as recommended by the Board of Education and the Standards of Accreditation.

The provision of a quality education for all Virginia's children is the most important function of state and local government. The infusion of K-12 funding provided in the 2016 General Assembly session was a step in the right direction toward restoring the state's partnership with localities in fulfilling this critical mission. However, when adjusted for inflation, state per pupil spending on public education is less than funding levels in FY 2006. With increased educational mandates, increased numbers of students, and state policy changes that decreased education funding, local school divisions have had to eliminate important academic programs, cut instructional and support staff, and increase class sizes, despite strong local efforts to improve efficiencies in public education.

VACo looks forward to working with the Governor and General Assembly to address these serious challenges facing public education in our Commonwealth.

VACo's 2017 Legislative Program also addresses other priorities. In the realm of Economic Development and Planning, VACo's members voiced support for three priorities, including changes to the conditional zoning law on proffers to allow greater flexibility for determining impacts and opposing limits to local regulations of home-based businesses, including short-term rentals.

The top priority in Environment and Agriculture is Water Quality Improvement Funding, while the priorities in Finance are support for the authority of county governments to levy and collect local business taxes, and support for granting counties the authority to adopt a local meals and cigarette tax without referendum.

Broadband, Health and Human Resources Funding, K-12 Workforce Development Cooperation, Devolution of Secondary Roads, Local-State Transportation Funding and Cooperation and Transportation Revenue Sharing are other priority issues.

Fauquier County Fire Rescue appoints Assistant Chief

Chief Darren Stevens is pleased to announce the appointment of Mark Ciarrocca, as the Assistant Chief of the Fauquier County Department of Fire, Rescue and Emergency Management. Chief Ciarrocca will be leaving his position of Battalion Chief with the City of Fairfax Fire Department to begin his employment with Fauquier County on December 19, 2016.

“Chief Ciarrocca was the unanimous choice of the selection committee” Stevens said. Of the initial 48 applicants for the position, 11 were invited to complete a written exercise. Six of those candidates were interviewed by the committee a few weeks ago.

“I am honored to have been selected to serve the citizens and visitors of Fauquier County as the Assistant Chief of the Department of Fire, Rescue and Emergency Management. I look forward to using my knowledge, skills and abilities developed over the course of my career to assist the Department in meeting the challenges facing the combination fire service in the County” said Ciarrocca.

Ciarrocca started his fire service career in 1981 as a volunteer firefighter and emergency medical technician in his hometown of Mechanicsburg, PA. While attending the University of Maryland, Chief Ciarrocca continued his fire service career, volunteering in College Park, MD. In 1988, he transitioned to the career fire service in the City of Fairfax Fire Department. Chief Ciarrocca spent more than 28 years with the City of Fairfax Fire Department rising through the ranks to battalion chief with over 14 years of experience as a command-level officer. Additionally, he has prior experience in fire prevention and investigations, having served as an Assistant Fire Marshal.

Ciarrocca has an extensive background managing emergency response personnel in a combination all hazards department that includes implementing effective incident command, providing career development opportunities for responders, developing policy and procedures, managing occupational safety and health programs, and developing promotional and selection processes.

He is a strong advocate of firefighter safety and works to reduce risk through proactive measures with a focus on safe and efficient fire ground operations, cancer prevention, and physical and mental well-being.

Ciarrocca holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Industrial Technology / Fire Protection from the University of Maryland and received the designation of Certified Public Manager from the George Washington University Center for Excellence in Municipal Management.

Loudoun County Animal Control Officer receives association award

Loudoun County Animal Services (LCAS) Officer Patrick Breslin has received a prestigious statewide award from the Virginia Animal Control Association (VACA). Breslin is the recipient of the Dr. Kent Roberts Award for Animal Control Officer of the Year.

“Officer Breslin received the award as a result of his consistent hard work and dedication as well as his professionalism and compassion,” said Department of Animal Services Director Nina Stively. “He has set an excellent standard for investigative work in cases of animal cruelty, while consistently showing compassion to people and their pets. He also devotes considerable time and energy to public education by attending youth camps, school events, and other community activities.”

Stively says Breslin’s “excellent investigative skills have led to important collection of evidence, confessions, and many successful convictions.” Breslin holds an 85% conviction rate and has responded to more than 4,700 calls for service since starting at LCAS in May 2013.

One notable investigation led by Breslin resulted in the conviction of five different people on charges related to a cock-fighting ring. Several weeks of effort, including six search warrants on five different properties, led to the seizure of 130 birds and related evidence including detailed fight records, blood sport paraphernalia, and drugs. Links to similar illegal activity in neighboring jurisdictions were also uncovered and shared with appropriate authorities.

“Officer Breslin conducts himself with a level of professionalism and dedication that makes us proud,” said LCAS Animal Control Chief Mark Stacks. “Not only does he willingly carry a heavy caseload but he always makes time to find events and teachable moments in hopes of influencing children to become responsible pet owners. He is always happy to talk about his work and hopes to inspire a new generation interested in careers that serve people, their pets, and wildlife.”

The Dr. Kent Roberts Award for Animal Control Officer of the Year is presented annually to one officer in Virginia who has demonstrated overall excellence in the performance of his or her job. It is named in honor of Dr. Kent Roberts, an important figure in the history of VACA, which strives to advance the profession of animal control.

“It is an immense honor being recognized by my peers and receiving this award,” said Breslin. “I look forward to further serving both animals and people of Loudoun County, and speaking for those who cannot speak up for themselves.”

In addition to being recognized at the VACA annual conference, Breslin was honored by the Loudoun County Board of Supervisors with a resolution of commendation at the Board’s November 1, 2016, meeting.

More information about LCAS, including the county’s Animal Services Officers, is online at www.loudoun.gov/animals.

Coastal Policy Center issues report on Virginia's stormwater program

The 2016 Stormwater Bill:

An Analysis of Perceived and Real Problems with Proposed Solutions

Prepared at the request of the Honorable M. Keith Hodges, Member of the Virginia House of Delegates, 98th District

During the 2016 session, the General Assembly passed HB 1250 \(Wilt\) and SB 673 \(Hanger\), companion bills that integrated the four chief statutes that deal with the issue of stormwater management. The provisions of HB 1250 and SB 673 are not scheduled to go into effect until July 1, 2017, or until the State Water Control Board approves the final regulations that implement the statute.

Shortly after the 2016 session ended, Delegate M. Keith Hodges requested that additional study be conducted that would focus on the stormwater issue, principally for the purpose of determining whether more changes to Virginia's stormwater management law should be considered during the 2017 legislative session. The study requested by Delegate Hodges was conducted by the Virginia Coastal Policy Center (VCPC), a division of the Law School at William and Mary.

The report generated by VCPC's study was released on November 11. To address lingering problems associated with HB 1250 and SB 673, the report contains a suite of policy options that may be incorporated within legislation to be considered by the 2017 General Assembly.

One chief issue described in VCPC's report relates to the problem of the so-called "donut hole." The "donut hole" is a consequence (VACo believes unintended) of HB 1173 \(Hodges\) and SB 423 \(Hanger\) that allowed many smaller, rural counties to "opt out" of what had been a statewide mandate to manage their own stormwater programs. However, a loophole in the final legislation continued the requirement of "opt out" localities to enforce stormwater requirements for land disturbances between 2,500 square feet and one acre within the area of the state covered under the Chesapeake Bay Preservation Act (CBPA). Localities not subject to CBPA would still be mandated to enforce stormwater requirements for land disturbances between 10,000 square feet and one acre.

VACo's 2017 Legislative Program has a position statement supporting legislation to eliminate the "donut hole" problem.

Looking for a fun hike that features a natural water slide? Roaring Run falls and Furnace Trail is an excellent hiking trail for the whole family. The easy, well-marked trail begins at an historic iron furnace and winds back and forth along the Roaring Run stream. You will pass rock walls, cascading water, and cross five footbridges before ending at beautiful Roaring Run Falls.

Two trails lead to the falls creating a 1.5 mile loop trail. Most visitors use the Streamside Trail on their way up to the falls and return on the Woodland Trail. On the streamside trail, hikers are treated to rustic stone bridges, sheer rock faces and the sound of tumbling water as they walk alongside Roaring Run Creek up to the falls. The trail junctures with the Woodland Trail just shy of Roaring Run Falls. A short, 1/10 mile spur trail leads to the falls. The woodland trail travels through the forest, passing a scenic overlook and the iron furnace before returning to the picnic area. Both trails are easy with relatively little elevation gain.

Directions: From Eagle Rock, VA take US 220 north and turn left on Craig Creek Road (SR 615). Continue for 5.5 miles. Turn right on Roaring Run Road (SR 621). Travel one mile to entrance of Roaring Run Day Use Area.

Difficulty: Easy

Trail Length: 1.40 miles

Elevation: 1200 to 1300 feet

Are you a county board chair or vice chair?

If so, VACo's Chairpersons' Institute is for you. It is held at the Omni Richmond Hotel on February 3-4, 2017. The Institute offers a professional learning experience that is carefully tailored to the needs of county board chairs and vice chairs.

Join us for a Webinar on Friday, December 9 at 11am to learn about the new VIP Stable NAV Liquidity Pool and our exciting online interface: MYACCESS.

Announcing the VIP Stable NAV Liquidity Pool

Recent federal money market reform has severely limited the availability of liquid investment vehicles that offer both high returns and stable net asset value. Fortunately, such funds may still be offered by governmental programs such as the Virginia Investment Pool (VIP). The VIP Stable NAV Liquidity Pool fills the void created by recent regulation with an AAAM-rated alternative whose goal is to offer the most competitive returns on liquid investments in Virginia.

VIP MYACCESS is now live

MYACCESS is a proprietary online interface offered exclusively for VIP participants. MYACCESS enables participants to make contributions, withdrawals, and transfers between the VIP Liquidity Pool, the VIP 1-3 Year High Quality Bond Fund, and their own checking or other local bank accounts. With MYACCESS, users may schedule important transactions in advance to avoid cash access emergencies. Reporting features available via MYACCESS include access to monthly statements, transaction confirmations, and details of past, present, and future dated transactions.

Who should attend the Webinar?

- Anyone interested in learning more about VIP's higher return, Stable NAV Liquidity Pool.
- Those who have considered joining VIP and want to learn how our expanded offerings and capabilities make VIP an even more valuable option for Treasurers and investment officers.
- Participants in the VIP 1-3 Year High Quality Bond Fund – we will demonstrate how you can immediately begin taking advantage of MYACCESS and the new VIP Liquidity Pool.

The VIP Stable NAV Liquidity Pool and MYACCESS are two great new tools now available to Virginia Treasurers and investment officers. Join us to learn how to put them to work for you.
