

Deputy City Manager

Salary Range: $112,455 - $187,792

The City of Norfolk, Virginia is seeking an innovative and proven senior level executive to join our vibrant city as a Deputy City Manager. The Deputy City Manager will be responsible for the oversight of an assigned portfolio developing policy for council consideration, providing administrative and management support in administering policies and programs, representing the city on various boards. In addition, the Deputy City Manager will assist in inter-departmental collaboration efforts, provide counsel to departments, provide interface with citizens and the public and performing other duties as assigned by the City Manager.

The candidate selected for this position will work closely with assigned departments to ensure continuity and strategic coordination with the identified city-wide goals and objectives. The candidate is also responsible for the oversight and implementation of long-range projects and assists the City Manager in the development of strategic plans, service initiatives, performance monitoring, policy development and decision-making.

Salary is negotiable depending on qualifications and experience. City residency must be established within six (6) months of appointment. The position is an unclassified, senior executive position which serves at the pleasure of the City Manager. For a complete list of employment opportunities, detailed position requirements, or to apply, please visit our website at www.norfolk.gov/jobs.