

Modern, mobile-friendly software driving measurable results and promoting quality practice

Our Story

Founded on putting children first

Binti started with a vision for all children and youth to have a permanent family. After her family member experienced challenges while adopting a child, founder and CEO Felicia Curcuru knew that the process could be simpler and more supportive for families and youth.

Built for Child Welfare, with Child Welfare

Beginning in 2016, Felicia and the Binti team partnered with San Francisco to create their first product: an easy to use mobile friendly web portal that allowed foster families and child welfare staff to work together and track their progress toward licensure.

Growing and learning together to promote safety, permanency, and well-being

Because of these great results, Binti expanded both our reach and our products. But we remain rooted in our commitment to build the best Child Welfare system for youth, families and the agencies that serve them.

County and agency-specific requirements can also be built in to allow for differences in work-flows by agency. Binti can also be configured so that different steps in the approval process can be completed by the private agencies, by counties and by the state.
