

Anne W. Darby, AICP

Anne has been helping Virginia localities plan for their future for the past 19 years. Currently she is the Planning Department Manager for Summit Design and Engineering, where she manages a wide range of projects including comprehensive and small area plans, zoning ordinance amendments, housing studies, feasibility studies, and more for localities across the Commonwealth.

In her position with Summit, Anne has worked with dozens of Virginia localities, helping them identify community vision and planning goals, and identifying how to realize their unique objectives within the framework of Virginia land use law.

Previous to her current role, Anne spent her career in the public sector, working for regional government in the Richmond area and then Richmond City, where she facilitated large-scale re-zonings and Zoning Ordinance amendments based on adopted plans.

Anne holds a Master of Urban and Regional Planning from VCU and is a member of the American Institute of Certified Planners (AICP). She is the co-chair of the Central Virginia Chapter of the American Planning Association and serves as Development Chair to the Board of Directors of the Virginia Chapter. Anne is a Roanoke native who has resided in Richmond for over two decades, where she serves as the President of her northside civic association.
